

We believe that marketing performs better with retail data. The Retail Media Group (RMG) is the first multi-partner platform combining the customer data from category-leading retailers such as MediaMarkt, Saturn, Real, Metro Cash & Carry, and many more. Many international brands such as Samsung, McFit, American Express and Microsoft work with us to optimize their marketing.

At the same time, we equip our retail partners with the necessary tools and know-how that ensure their readiness for the new age of data. Our distinct expertise is the result of an exceptional mix of AdTech and retail market knowledge that we brought from our parent company ECONOMY (formerly METRO GROUP).

We are only as impactful and creative as the people on our team, so we make building a strong culture among our highest priorities. Are you ready for your next challenge? Join our Berlin team of experienced entrepreneurs and challenge seekers that are leading the change in the retail and marketing industry.
